

Natrutex

Clear Binder Paving

Natrutex is a fully bonded natural aggregate wearing course with a selection of natural stone types to choose from. Flexible in terms of its usage, Natrutex has been used for both pedestrian and vehicular areas in a variety of public and private projects. A specially formulated clear binder is used to bond aggregates in traditional macadam gradations to produce a durable hard wearing surface with the soft appearance of natural stone.

Architects and designers are able to use the natural finish of Natrutex to compliment or contrast the background landscape and architecture. We use a variety of aggregates to produce subtle shades of natural finishes and ones that will be suitable for use on roads, footpaths, driveways and playgrounds. With Natrutex being free from pigments, the natural color of the aggregate used is retained over the long term.
